

TURKEY'S EDUCATED GIRLS (TEK) GIVING CIRCLE IMPACT REPORT

A FUND AT TURKISH PHILANTHROPY FUNDS

JULY 2021- APRIL 2022

TOGETHER

we support girls' access to education and empower future generations

The Challenge

In Turkey still, fewer girls (83.9%) attend high school than boys (84.5%). The dropout rate after primary education (age 14) for girls is about 16 percent. And, we don't have any data on what percentage of these young women graduate from high school.

In eastern and southeastern Turkey the situation is direr. The enrollment rates drop to 69-70 percent for girls.

The pandemic further diminished access to education as many disadvantaged students do not have computers/tablets and an internet connection to follow distance learning.

The Response

Since its inception in 2019, the mission of Turkey's Educated Girls (TEK) is to elevate Turkey's achievements in the fields of science, technology, and arts so that Turkey reaches the goals envisioned by the founder, Mustafa Kemal Atatürk. Through TPF, donors in the TEK Giving Circle support primarily female students to empower them with education and build bridges between communities in Eastern and Western Turkey.

TEK Giving Circle supports female students by providing scholarships, computers, technology support, accommodation, transportation, and food stipends in partnership with TPF and TPF's partner NGOs in Turkey.
